THE STORY OF THE PLAY.

EXCELLENT SUPPORT GIVEN BY THE COMPANY.

Joe McAuliffe Stock Company Opens a Week's Engagement Next Monday Night.

Mr. Robert B. Mantell, the eminent dramatic actor, supported by an excellent company, presented "The Dagger and the Cross," at the Opera House on Friday evening.

Mr. Mantell has been seen in many places before and has, in many instances, been so fortunate as to have been seen.

The play presented last evening has been given here before and met with a hearty reception. The story is woven around a young Venetian artist.

His wife, and the principal motive of the piece is the passion of jealousy.

Mr. Mantell is cast for the role of the artist, and the play is a masterpiece of the kind.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

The supreme court adjourned at 10 o'clock on Friday morning until Monday, when the final cleaning up of the business of the term will begin. Up to the time of adjournment the attention of the chief justice was occupied with the Orono tax case.

These are the last of the cases to be decided before the court adjourns.

Some interesting points of law are raised by these actions, one of which is whether or not the defendant is entitled to collect the taxes under the warrant given to him by the town assessors.

In 1898 a new collector was appointed to collect the taxes. The plaintiff claimed that the defendant was not a collector at the time the warrant was given to him by the town assessors.

The defendants claim that the new collector had exhausted all means at his disposal and that should not be held.

The defendants also claimed that most of the taxes were assessed on transients and that following the custom prevailing in other towns, they should be abated.

Chief Justice Winslow ruled that the actions are maintainable and the cases went to the law court on exceptions.

If the law court holds that the actions are maintainable, they will be returned to this court for the assessment of damages.

AWAITING A CLAIMANT.

Boston, Jan. 26. Helen F. Hyland, as she was known at her boarding place on Shawmut avenue, young in years, comely in feature and possessed of some material wealth in good clothes and money, died today of peritonitis and her body lies at the morgue awaiting a claimant.

Some mystery seems to cloud her name for the police saw certain that Hyland was frantically, although her life insurance policy bears that name, and in the application St. John, N. B. is given as her birthplace, with a brother as her immediate relative. Her address was not given.

The policy was payable to her estate. From conversation with acquaintances it was thought that the woman came from a wealthy family, that her mother had recently died in California leaving considerable property, from which she had received some money and expected more. An autopsy showed peritonitis as the cause of the young woman's death.

In a suit for something which would lead to the woman's identity, the officer found half a dozen photographs. One was of an elderly woman who is believed to be her mother; another of a soldier of the Civil War, another of a man in a military uniform. There was also the photograph of a baby boy and a number of photographs of herself. Some of the photographs were taken in New South Wales, Australia, and one in Ireland.

WANTS TO BE VICE-PRESIDENT.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 26. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, and former mayor of Kansas City, has an ambition to become President McKinley's running mate next fall, according to the Kansas City Star.

The Star says: "Davis' closest friends here do not hesitate to express the belief that he would be a great man in the nation. The President questioned me closely about the standing of Davis in the west and said Missouri was his best friend of his."

He was sent on his stumping tour of Ohio and west for no other purpose than to let the people see him. The trip to South Africa is nothing more than a move on the political checker board to bring Davis into prominence.

SUNK A COAL BARGE.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 27. I. A. M. The Elder-Dempster steamed Lake Ontario, from Liverpool, entering the harbor at midnight, ran into a Dominion Coal Company's barge at anchor and sank it with five hundred tons of coal.

The one person on the barge was Capt. McMillan, who was killed. He was on the boat when it was struck and was thrown overboard.

STEAMER OSBORNE DISABLED.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 26. The steamer Osborne, from London Jan. 7, for Philadelphia, was disabled Jan. 20 in lat. 42° 25' north, 42° 45' west, by steamer Barrowmore of this port, lying to disabled. She required assistance, and was being towed to port.

GREAT PLAGUE RAVAGES.

Brewer, Maine, Jan. 16, 1900. A few weeks ago I had a very hard, dry cough, my lungs were sore and pained me a good deal. I got a bottle of Wyman's Pine Tar and Cherry Expectorant and after taking a few doses the pain in my lungs left, my cough lessened and finally disappeared entirely. I have used many different cough syrups, but Pine Tar and Cherry Expectorant is by far the best cough medicine I ever used and I gladly recommend it to anyone troubled with a hard, obstinate cough.

Saved From Insanity.

Nerve and Blood Diseases the Curse of Modern Civilization.

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Blood and Nerve Remedy is Life for the Blood and Strength for the Nerves.

"THE CENTURY'S GREATEST HEALTH-BUILDER."

Thousands of people are nervous, thousands suffer from mental exhaustion, weak, shaky and irritable nerves, sleeplessness, gloomy depression, of mind and exhaustion of nerve power.

They do not realize the dangerous gravity of their condition, nor the fearful results of neglect of these symptoms.

It is nerve and physical exhaustion, loss of nerve power and physical vigor which makes the brain tired, the arm nerveless, the limbs trembling, the muscles weak, and the whole body without strength, energy or ambition.

It is the loss of nerve and vital power which is slowly but surely sapping the life force, and unless help is sought from the right source the end will be shattered nerves, insanity, paralysis or death.

Neglect alone is dangerous. Nature has provided, from the bosom of the earth, the nerve strengthening, blood inspiring and health restoring Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which certainly and unfailingly cures these terrible nervous diseases of modern times.

Use this great and wonderful remedy, and the nervous, irritable, weak and trembling feelings will disappear, your sleep will be natural, calm, restful and you will wake mornings feeling strong and vigorous, instead of tired and exhausted, your nervous system and sense of anxiety and dread will fade from your mind; your nerves will become strong and steady as steel, your strength, energy and ambition will be restored, and perfect health take the place of weakness and debility.

Mrs. Janet Johnson, Roxbury, Conn., Boston, Mass., writes: "I have suffered from nervous prostration for many years, and have been unable to do any work. I have tried many remedies, but have not found any relief. I have been advised to use Dr. Greene's Nervura, and I have done so. I have now recovered my health, and am able to do my work. I am very grateful to Dr. Greene for his discovery of this great remedy."

Dr. Greene's Nervura is a great remedy for all forms of nervous diseases, and for all cases of mental exhaustion, nervous prostration, and for all cases of physical weakness, and for all cases of nervous diseases. ## WANT RAILROAD COMBINE.

Washington, Jan. 26. The Senate committee on commerce gave a hearing Friday on the bill to amend the interstate commerce laws. The first speech was made by Frank Barry of Milwaukee. He is secretary of the National Millers' Association and the accredited representative of the national league of industrial associations.

He commended the pending bill, saying that it had been formed with a view of doing justice to both the shipped and carrier.

Augustine Gallagher of St. Louis, commissioner of the Millers' National Association, spoke of the interests of the millers in the proposed legislation. He said that the National Miller's association and the National Board of Trade were favorable to such legislation, as it would restore practically an organization smaller to the recent joint traffic association.

"You are here today then," said Mr. Chandler, "to advocate a railroad trust with one billion dollars capital. It is not a fair game

WOMAN'S JOKER

BY MRS. H. G. ROWE.

MAINE WOMEN'S CLUBS
Eight Annual Midwinter Meeting of the Federation at Westbrook.
MAINE FEDERATION OFFICERS ENTERTAINED.
The Maine Federation of Women's clubs was given a reception the evening of Jan. 23d, by the officers and her report that she had the hearty cooperation of Superintendent Stetson in her work, and added that as Mr. Stetson's annual report would soon appear, she hoped that every clubwoman would read it. She has sent out 500 circulars and 500 leaflets, since the first of November, but so far only thirty clubs have responded to the questions in the circulars.

The treasurer, Miss Inez Blanchard of Portland, reported $112.39 as the sum now in the treasury.

This was followed by the discussion in regard to "The Relation of the State to the General Federation in Taxation and Representation." This was the topic which was to be the special one under consideration and it was started by Mrs. Alice Frye Briggs.

The motion in favor of the reorganization of the General Federation was promptly passed, but the per capita tax was not so easily managed. It called forth a great deal of comment, but finally was passed, overwhelmingly, 39 in favor (one against, one not voting).

The convention also voted against the admission of kindred organizations into the General Federation, declaring itself as in favor of the annual meeting of the Maine Federation and of the General Federation; also voted that clubs formed before the Maine Federation should have one honorary representative.

The following delegates were appointed for the General Federation in Milwaukee next year: Miss Connor, Fairfield; Miss Lord and Miss Noyes, Portland; Mrs. Paine, Bangor; Mrs. Lee, Ansonia; Mrs. Powers, Madison; and Mrs. Jennie White, Rockland.

The question of instituting an "Old Home Week" received an ardent endorsement from Mrs. Christine Stephens of Norway Lake, who read a paper stating the advantages, material and spiritual which would arise from having such a meeting of the former and present residents of the old State.

It was voted that the Federation should appoint a committee of five to keep alive the matter; the following women were put upon it:
Mrs. Stevens of Lewiston;

Mrs. Percival Bonney of Portland; Mrs.
Houghton of Bangor; and Mrs.
Spaulding of Caribou.

Mrs. J. A. Thompson of Bangor, recording secretary, who was unavoidably absent, her place being filled by
Mrs. Estabrooke of Orono.

Two new clubs were admitted—
the "Current Events" of Westbrook,
and the "Conklin Club" of Portland.
It was also suggested that the name of members of the Ammoncong club at the residence of Mrs. C. L. Fogg, Main street, Cumberland Mills, it was made

the event of the season in the history
of the club.

The office of the Federation and the president and vice president of the Am-moncong club received the guests between 8 and 10 p. m. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and palms. The dining room was especially decorated, the table being in green and white—smilax and pinks.
At the fireplace were banked with
green, when the electric lights had all

MEETING ON THE 24th.
On Jan. 24th, the eighth annual midwinter meeting of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs was held with the Ammoncong Club of Westbrook. The meeting was in the Universalist church, and seventy club presidents responded to the roll call at the opening of the session.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter of Caribou, State President, presided, with her usual grace and ability, responding graciously to the address of welcome from Mrs. Isabel T. Ray, president of the Ammoncong Club. The State officers were all present, except
Mrs. J. A. Thompson of Bangor, recording secretary, who was unavoid-
ably absent, her place being filled by
Mrs. Estabrooke of Orono.

Two new clubs were admitted—
the "Current Events" of Westbrook,
and the "Conklin Club" of Portland.
It was also suggested that the name of

members of the Ammoncong club at the residence of Mrs. C. L. Fogg, Main street, Cumberland Mills, it was made
the event of the season in the history
of the club.

The office of the Federation and the president and vice president of the Am-
moncong club received the guests between 8 and 10 p. m. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and palms. The dining room was especially decorated, the table being in
green and white—smilax and pinks.
At the fireplace were banked with
green, when the electric lights had all

REST MADE EASY.

When Bangor People Learn This

Can't rest at night with a bad back, a lame, weak or aching one, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People cure every form of kidney trouble. From common backache to diabetes, they are endorsed by Bangor people. Mrs. L. Ray of 55 Lincoln street says: "My health had been very poor for a long time while I doctored continually. The physicians did not give relief. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills brought me back to my normal health. I am now as well as ever." The trouble had on of such long duration that I could not take any rest. I did not anticipate but I was feeling thankful to get rid of it. I was in my back from which I suffered long.

SOME COMMENTS AND NOTES.

A JOURNAL OF FAMOUS MEN, VLT. KIS AND RACE COURSE ITEMS.

Lord William Beresford confirms the rumor that Tom Sloan is to be replaced by Tom Weldon as his leading jockey.

This is news which will cause a sensation in the turf world that will be more than a nine days' wonder. No one for instant believed the cable rumor that the English Jockey Club would refuse a license to Sloan, and it did not need a cable from Lord Weldon to refute it. But the reputation of Sloan by Lord William will be a great surprise. Sloan was as much a part of the Beresford confederacy as Lord William himself. Indeed, for nearly two years it was a saying common at Newmarket and Ascot and Goodwood that Sloan was the best stake horse in the outfit.

The two Americans—Sloan, the jockey, and Hughes, the trainer—made the stable almost invincible and the Beresford colors famous. Beresford was little more than a sportsman when he met Pierre Lorillard, without whose money any amount of money of any stable, Lorillard, had horses and wealth, but an aversion to the details of management, and Beresford was a genuine find. He managed the stable, he, fair horseman himself and had the social prestige which made partnership with him valuable. So long as Mr. Lorillard and Lord William remained partners there was no trouble with Sloan. He was sweeping everything before him, and his social vagaries cut no figure with Mr. Lorillard. The jockey at the moment was giving dinners in the Cecil with a lavishness that had not been seen between the days of the Shah of Persia and that of Barney Barnato.

But this grating on the sensibilities of Lord William, and there came stories to this country that the titled owner was piqued over finding that the papers had Sloan continuously on the summit of some adventure while he merely was the owner of the horses. In 1898 he gave a shooting party to which he invited Sloan, and Sloan was the biggest elephant in the jungle. And the Lord gazed at his teeth, and there was much amusement with him in his days over his friend Sloan. This amusement grew into annoying sarcasm when Riley, Granam and Charlie Dwyer and Eddie Bald went to England, and they became the persons talked about, while the stable remained an incident.

Naturally, it did not take much to make the situation intolerable to Beresford, and when Mr. Lorillard retired, Sloan merely had his success in the saddle to depend upon to maintain his place. When Sloan returned to England last spring, after a winter in this country, Lord William said to him he supposed he had been doing a lot of riding in America.

"Oh, yes," was the flippant reply, "in Cuba."

And Sloan had the bad taste to tell it off to a supper in the Cecil, and it got into print. All of which came back to Sloan the harder when, in a bungling finish, he lost the Lincolnshire Handicap on Knight of the Thistle, clearly because of lack of physical condition. Later, his ride on Sibola in the Oaks, who was backed for a heavy sum, was concededly the worst he had put up in years, and then came the streak of comparative poor fortune, which will come to the best of jockeys, and which, at times, will pursue every stable. Added to this were the successes of the Roke brothers and "Skeels" Martin, and Sloan, who had been the pioneer in modern race riding, lost its most successful exponent—the acknowledged champion of two continents—suffered a partial eclipse.

Every defeat was attributed to waning powers. Defects were sought in the rider, and there was no thought of appropriating some measure of the blame to the horse. Sloan's mode of living made against him. His associations were a source of criticism. His hours were late; his support heavy; his companions not of life so frugal as Englishmen would have the companions of jockeys whose heads must be clear and blood-cool and muscles firm. The incident of the bottle-throwing at Ascot was accepted, though wrongly so, as illustrative of his life. Lord Beresford got him out of that scrape, but it was, at the expense of a good deal of Sloan's character. The waiter who was the victim had treated him insolently, but the fact stood out that the insolent treatment was at a wine party on the lawn.

And thus it was, and probably is, that Sloan's pace and his indolence, long got him into trouble with Lord Beresford, and caused the rumors that Sloan was to be replaced by Tom Weldon.

SHORT STORIES OF WHAT'S TAKING PLACE EACH DAY.

What the People Say and Do And How They Do and Say It.

Mrs. Helen Coffin Beedy, who has been the guest of Mrs. H.P. Merrill for a few days in Portland, returned to her home in Bangor.

State Treasurer and Mrs. F. M. Simpson and Master Frederick, of Carmel, arrived in Augusta, Thursday, and are stopping at the Augusta house.

Mr. A. H. Benner has returned to Bangor from Rockland and resumed his duties as secretary in the American Express Co.'s office. He has recovered from his recent attack of typhoid fever.

Many of those who watched the electric, Thursday, wondered why some Yankee genius has not invented some device to clear the ice from the rails in a sleep storm. There is a golden opportunity for some one and doubtless a small fortune could be made out of a practical device that would perform its work well.

The paintings of Miss Jessica Lewis of Hotel Oxford, Boston, formerly of Bangor, are receiving much pleasant comment. Her water colors, especially, are very beautiful, and some of her choicest pieces in still life are on exhibition at Bridgeport, Conn. Miss Lewis has a studio at the Oxford and is studying under Dodge Macknight, the brilliant water colorist of Mystic, Conn.

There are so many different lines of work in which young women might excel, and perhaps none more interesting than landscape gardening, which has recently been most vividly brought to our notice in the successful work of a wealthy young woman, Miss Beatrice Jones of New York, who has a beautiful summer home in Bar Harbor. One of her recent achievements is that of the estate of Edgar Scott at Bar Harbor, where she drained a swamp covered, it with a growth of birch and alder and has made the place beautiful as well as sanitary. Miss Jones belongs in a social circle from which the workers of the world do not often come.

The society of the Sons and Daughters of Maine in Washington are holding some very enthusiastic meetings this winter. They assemble at the hall on Tenth street, having gone back to that meeting place in preference to Carroll Institute Hall, further up town, where their meetings were held for several months. General Ellis Spear, formerly of Rockland, is now president. The meetings are devoted almost entirely to literary and social entertainment. Recently Representative Littlefield of Rockland appeared before the meeting and delivered a ringing address that was full of loyalty to the Pine Tree State. The meetings are generally attended by Maine people in Washington.

Conductor Sheene, of the Pullman parlor car service between Bangor and Boston, is happy over the new car Ruth which has been placed in his charge. The Ruth is one of the parlor cars transformed from the old style to the new. She has been in the shops in Delaware for some time past, and now she comes out in the new form. The new style of observation windows with eight cathedral windows, greatly improve her appearance from the outside, while the interior has been as greatly changed, with every luxury possible. The running gear has been improved by the addition of the ball bearing which takes away the jar felt in the ordinary car. It is a handsome car and from all appearance it must be a delightful one to ride in.

ON

Grape-Nuts.

"I do not know exactly what internal improvement is going on, but something makes me feel stronger and better since I have been steadily eating Grape-Nuts."

"They make a most delicious breakfast and I would not like to do without this food." Is there any of the company stock for sale? If so, at what price? It should be a good investment for your products are very popular and sold everywhere. The food, Grape-Nuts, is the finest thing in the world in its line, and it holds friends wherever it is tried."

The writer is one of the silverminers on Broadway, N. Y. His name will be given on request to Portland Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., makers of Grape-Nuts.

(If your Grape-Nuts ever get wet or soggy, keep them in a damp place, dry out in a dry pan in the oven, before serving.)

J. E. Bates, Sec. of Winn was in the city Friday on business.

General J. P. Child and wife of Rockland were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Nealley during their stay in the city on M. P. A. delegates.

The members of the Maine Press Association who attended the convention in this city returned to their respective homes Friday noon.

Kennebec Journal: Bangor lived up to its reputation for hospitality in entertaining the Maine Press association. The Queen City is ever a generous and graceful hostess.

Mr. John M. S. Hunter and wife of the Farmington Chronicle were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Tarr of the Bangor House during the M. P. A. convention in this city.

The funeral of Mrs. L. W. Savage will be held today at 11:30 A. M. at her late home, No. 423 Union street. The burial will be in Northampton, N. B.

Not only the Maine press but the Boston, New York and western papers are giving hearty endorsement to the proposition for an Old Home Week in Maine. The Maine man is everywhere and the idea reaches his heart.

A man who has returned from the Provinces, says that the feeling there is unanimous in favor of the mother country in regard to the Boer war and that in St. John a person would be mobbed did he dare express sympathy for the Boers.

Bangor men will have a chance to hear Staff Captain Smith, of Portland, who is to speak at the men's meeting in the Young Men's Christian Association building Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. Lillian Hathorn will also be present to sing. There ought to be a full house to hear them.

Mr. Arthur H. Black, preacher at Crosbyville, who has been absent from his work for two weeks, will be present Sunday at the chapel and will preach at the usual hour, and deliver an address to the children. A warm church, good music and plain, simple preaching make the services interesting to all who attend. Public most cordially invited.

Hiram Maxim, the Maine inventor of the famous Maxim gun, whose lectures in Bangor are well remembered, has sold his invention in nearly every civilized nation in the world. In the present war in the Transvaal between the British and Boers, both sides are well supplied with these engines of warfare. The slow-going native of South Africa has found them capable of doing terrible execution, more so than any gun of like character.

A party of about one dozen of M. P. A. delegates, conducted by President C. W. Robbins, visited the University of Maine Friday morning, where they were shown over the premises by President A. W. Harris and Librarian Jones. From there they went to Oldtown, where they were pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robbins. They left Oldtown on the 12:35 P. M. train for Bangor, where they dined at the M. C. restaurant. They left for their homes on the 1:35 P. M. train.

According to the Liverpool Underwriters' association's returns, the casualties to vessels of 500 tons gross and upwards in December were: From weather damage, 77; foundering and abandonments, 7; strandings, including 10 total losses, 156; fires and explosions including one total loss, 15; missing, 1; other casualties $5, making for December 416 casualties, including 12 total losses, against 431 for November, of which 26 were total losses. For the 12 months there have been 1200 vessels weather-damaged, 80 foundering and abandonments, 1295 strandings, including 132 total losses; 1488 collisions, including 30 total losses; 233 fires and explosions, including six total losses; 37 missing and 1226 other casualties, making a total for the year of 5381 casualties, of which 285 were total losses.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS.

Transportation to the International Convention in London Becoming a Serious Problem.

There are many Christian Endeavorers in the Pine Tree State who think of attending the International convention in London next July but comparatively few have secured their berths as yet. Owing to the fact that nearly all the English liners have been impressed into transport service, the transportation problem is becoming a serious one. The price of berths has advanced $50 or more since the contracts were made and it is doubtful if any more can be secured at double the price of those now being sold by the C. E. managers.

Maine Endeavorers should apply at once in order to get their share of the accommodations already contracted for. Mr. E. W. Farquhar, Lexington, excursion manager for the Maine C. E. Union, will be pleased to answer all inquiries.

E. V. Weymouth claims the distinction of being the only man in this field who ever bred, raised, trained, marked and owned a horse that got a mark of 100 on the nose. The horse was Prince Harrington.

We thought our last year's stock of Women's Muslin Underwear grand. It was—for last year. But these Underwear-men surpass themselves with each succeeding season. It may be that this year there is more of the "know how" in these garments which we have gathered, but, whatever the reason, the fact remains that the best made and daintiest garments we have ever shown are here now. YOU MUSTN'T MISS THIS COLLECTION

Night Gowns! Corset Covers, Short Skirts, Drawers.

Every feature of this sale is special, but more special than other features, if possible, will be the Night Gown selling. Prices so modestly pitched from the cheapest to the best grades, that they cannot fail to strike you. Many of the better grades of Night Robes are daintily trimmed with the prettiest of laces and embroidery.

Some plain with rows of tucks, some with cambric or embroidery flounces; all cut very full. They are among the best creations of master makers. As this is the time of year for replenishing the underwear outfit, these lots at these prices come just in the nick of time.

Did we not know whereof we speak concerning values anent this big underwear sale, we might not be quite so enthusiastic or quite so emphatic. But knowing as we DO know that, every item advertised and dozens of items not advertised are real, genuine bargains, we may be pardoned for doing our utmost to impress upon you the importance of this sale.

BEAR THIS FACT IN MIND THAT WHITE WALKING SKIRTS ARE TO BE THE FAD.

Throngs of thrifty women daily benefit by the offerings of this unusual occasion. It is evident that dependable qualities—competent workmanship and daintily beautiful trimmings—are preferred to the trashy, throw-together sorts of Muslin Underwear so freely shown hereabouts.

As some of the best numbers of drawers are somewhat limited as to quality it is advisable that you be among the early choosers as these lots cannot be duplicated at these prices.

Many sorts, many prices, but you can depend upon this fact, WHATEVER SORT YOU SELECT THE PRICE WILL BE LOWER DURING THIS SALE THAN AT ANY OTHER TIME. TWIXT NOW AND THE NEXT ANNUAL SALE.

-0- 5. Choice at $1.25 each.
The kind you pay $1.25 to $1.50 for elsewhere.
